4 Love the Look....

Comments about Tasman Slipper
....But they weren't super comfortable so I ultimately ended up getting rid of them. Like I said I love the look but they soles are hard. My other ugg slippers are more cushioned, but these are more work friendly.

5 Order up for wide feet

Comments about Tasman Slipper
I love these slippers. Just received them within the hour and don't think I will take them off any time soon! They stay on your feet and don't shuffle like some slippers with this type of heel. I am normally an 8-8.5 but have a wide foot so the 9 fits like a glove. I will be able to slip them over thin socks but not with my hiking socks. I hate to say whether these feel too small/big/true to size because these fit great but I did go up in size because I know Ugg slippers tend to be more narrow.

How do I specify that I want the men's 9 In the Tasman style instead of a women's 10? I don't see an option for that..

Hello, and thank you for the inquiry! If you go to UGG.com website under Men's category/Slippers you will find the Tasman as a choice, which comes in 5 colors to choose from.

Where are they made

In regards to you inquiry, most UGG products are now made in Asia, as is the majority of all footwear sold in the United States, though a small number of our styles are manufactured in the USA. Our Australian manufacturing sources simply could not handle the volume of products we now create, and we made the decision to shift our production facilities to Asia over 10 years ago in an effort to meet the growing demand for our brand. Despite that, we continue to source the high-quality sheepskin used to manufacture our Classic Collection and other styles from Australia, New Zealand, the USA, the UK, and Ireland. Additionally, our quality standards have not changed-- the boots we make in Asia are as high (if not higher) in quality than anything we have ever made.

am looking for shearling lined only. How can I tell if they are or not? It mentions shearling and uggpure in the description.

The Tasman does not feature shearling. Look for an item description with "twiface sheepskin" - that is another way of saying shearling. They will mostly be found in our "Classic" styles.

How high is the heel and how does that compare to the height of the rest of the shoe?
(Question)

There isn't really a drop in this shoe, so expect close to zero drop. We do not have the measurements for the heel height.

Hi, some of the UGG slippers I have gotten in the past had the tag on the heel which bothered my feet. I looked at the images (Question) and it doesn't appear that the Tasman has a tag on the heel. I wanted to verify before I purchased them.

Yes, the Tasman slipper has the UGG logo tag on the heel of the slipper.
